WOMEN HANDLE BIG SHELLS

Young British Mother Settles Question of Their Physical Fitness to Do So.

Liverpool, Eng.—When women first were put to work in shell factories here they handled only the light field-gun shells. Later it became necessary for them to turn out larger shells, and doubts were raised as to whether the women were strong enough to handle them. A young mother settled the question.

"Let me lift the shell," she said, picking one up from the floor. "Aye," she commented, "this shell is a mite heavy, 'tis true, but it's not so heavy as my baby."

There is a shell factory in this district operated almost exclusively by the daughters of business and professional men. Many are young girls who had never done any kind of work other than needle work and cooking. The heavy work of the establishment is performed by the wives of sailors.

This is a nonprofit making factory and it is the reply of the Cunard company to the Germans for the sinking of the Lusitania.

Renown "Underfeed" Range is the only real improvement made in range construction in 25 years.

The "Underfeed" principle is the only scientific way of burning soft coal. The fuel being fed under the fire, all products of combustion (gas and smoke) are forced to pass through the red hot coals, and they are converted into a blazing flame, producing a strong even heat at all times.

Don't Smother Your Fire by Putting Soft Coal on Top of It

Use the "Underfeed" Method

This Range, with the entire front finished in Black Nickel and the top Ground Polished and Buffed, making it smooth as glass, is the handsomest stove ever turned out of a stove factory
